

Volunteer at the Smeal College of Business

At the Smeal College of Business, we welcome and encourage our alumni to volunteer with the college and give back their time and talents. There are several opportunities currently available for those interested in volunteering.

Mentor Students through Smeal Connect

<https://smeal.affinitycircles.com/smeal/auth/login>

Smeal Connect is an exclusive, online community for Smeal alumni, faculty, staff, and students. It allows alumni to mentor students, connect with old classmates, and join groups to network with others who share similar interests.

Become a Member of a Smeal Regional Club

Regional clubs allow Smeal graduates in specific geographical areas to network with one another in a variety of ways. Smeal currently has three groups.

- Smeal Business Club, Philadelphia Chapter

The Smeal College of Business offers a variety of ways for companies to tap into the resources of Smeal and Penn State more broadly.

Join the Penn State Alumni Association

www.alumni.psu.edu/membership/join/default.htm

The Penn State Alumni Association—a powerful network of more than 160,000 members—is the largest dues-paying alumni association in the world. Their mission is to connect alumni to the University and to each other, to provide valued services to members, and to support the University's mission of teaching, research, and service.

Participate in a Penn State Group

The Penn State Alumni Association sponsors approximately 280 chartered groups that provide opportunities for professional development, networking, volunteering, and friendship building.

Volunteer with the Smeal College Alumni Society Board
