

Enhance Your Competencies With a Supply Chain Certificate

The Certificates

Penn State Executive Programs and the Center for Supply Chain Research are now providing special recognition for one's commitment to supply chain learning through two certificate options. Receive a Certificate in Supply Chain Management, a more advanced Certificate in Supply Chain Leadership, or an all new Certificate in Supply Chain Operational Excellence by completing a combination of programs. There is no particular order or time limit in which these programs must be taken as each deals with different aspects of the supply chain field.
