RISE Above Faculty Award: Guidelines

Commitment to Honor & Integrity plays a critical role in Smeal’s efforts to be one of the very best business schools in the world. Faculty play an integral role in achieving our Honor & Integrity related goals through their contributions to: extraordinary education (in formal teaching assignments as well as co-curricular engagements); impactful research (on topics that inform our understanding of, and ability to engage in, responsible business behavior); and professional, college and university service (e.g., as reviewers, committee members and advisors of student organizations).

Furthermore, all members of the Smeal community should put forth effort to increase awareness that Smeal is committed to a culture of integrity, and seek ways that we can engage with and advocate for initiatives that help to build and sustain an organization that demonstrates the Penn State Values (Community, Respect, Responsibility, Integrity, Discovery, Excellence).

The RISE Above Award honors faculty members for their commitment to advancing Smeal’s goals of promoting Honor & Integrity. This commitment can be demonstrated through any combination of teaching, research or service related activities.
